

COMMENTS

- Very good speakers, covering most of the current leadership issues facing not for profits.
- Great learning environment and met people from a range of organisations.
- Reinforced my initial perception of the not for profit sector as being supported and driven by dedicated/ committed professionals.
- I no longer feel alone and am affirmed that what we are doing is on track and ok. I am re-energised as a result.
- Great participants make for a stimulating dialogue.
- Variety of speakers, interactive sessions, thought provoking topics.
- Good spread of participants, thoughtful presentations, good networking.
- Got two great case studies for my book.
- Quality of presenters.
- It brought together a vast amount of not for profit organisations.
- Sound presentations capturing salient issues re leadership in not for profits.
- Plenty of opportunity to share ideas, challenges and solutions. Made some new networks in non-like industries too, which will be handy for benchmarking.
- Quality of speakers: networking: diversity of topics and issues.
- Incredibly insightful, provided not only the why but how.
- Exceeded my expectations.
- Excellent format.
- Inspirational examples eg Robles, Circus Oz, the fund for low-tech loans in the Third World (Opportunity International).
- Great opportunity to think and consider a range of issues.
- Good program. Intelligent and knowledgeable presenters. Current issues and topics addressed.
- Topics of themes were good. Most presenters were good.
- Overall I was able to tap into contemporary leadership issues across the not for profit and corporate sectors.
- Comprehensive, well run and organised and lots of case studies.
- Learnings; new ideas; challenges; networking.
- A very professionally presented summit, great speakers, inspiring examples.
- I came to learn – AND DID!
- Excellent speakers, content and format, range of participants, venue.

- Good overview of key aspects – most should be happy with most.
- The Summit more than met my expectations - I feel very privileged.
- Brought forward key issues in strategy and performance.
- High quality, challenging, thought provoking content, well-organised, good networking opportunities, FIRST RATE IN EVERY SENSE.
- Summits such as this provide an opportunity for timeout and reflection as well as sharing of ideas.